

Bit and Saddle Experts

We have listed a number of great tack, bit and saddle makers below for you to contact, ask questions and purchase from. We have no commercial connection with these experts, but can recommend them all for the quality of their work and their knowledge. It is by no means an exhaustive list and is in no particular order. Please contact us if you have someone you would like to see added here and we will be more than happy to look into it. Click their names to see their websites.
